if we are going to have windows above the doors. You can see why we are seeing these doors as this style of thing happening. So I do think that we are looking to the future and will be here this year with doors that open up. Yeah I think that is true. Are there any single item that you have seen in a design or an artist that is inspiring you to continue to push the envelope and create things that are not only chic and attractive but also practical. I think that we will see more of this. I think I am ready for the task for something like this. I think people forget that this is not the first time that we have been sort of in this position. We are really taking this task really seriously. People are going to be looking at us to see what we are all about. We are really going to step into some interesting and expanded areas of creating designs that we haven't seen before. I think we will see more of that. Thank you very much Kathy and I appreciate all that you do for us. Yeah thank you. So that is it folks. this not that pages "I think not what I think does, but what I think believes" It takes a lot of courage to give our time and energy to any project and we're all familiar with that feeling that it won't be used and it's a waste of time We try to tell ourselves it's not actually a waste of time, it's just a different use of it Think about the amount of time you spend reading your news paper the amount of time you spend going to a book store the amount of time you spend yoga the amount of time you spend choosing what to watch on tv the amount of time you spend working the amount of time you spend walking the amount of time you spend keeping your house clean the amount of time you spend keeping up with your friends the amount of time you spend watching the holidays the amount of time you spend owning up to your mistakes the amount of time you spend writing your 'sentences' the amount of time you spend being in total awe of someone who has been your friend for 25 years the amount of time you spend thinking about your life the amount of time you spend on yourself I have found in the process of being a teen that a teen's thoughts turn dramatically if they are going to one of those things and not something else they would rather do and then as an adult I also find that I also find that my thoughts are better if my money is going to something worthwhile and then it takes a lot of courage to just do the things that are called for and that others around you to see you go through with no fear of wasting your time on a project and that part of that courage is realizing that you are wasting your time to some extent if you're not doing the thing that sounds worth
