I would really appreciate it if someone can help me out. Im not good at english so im really sorry if this question is kind of dumb. I tried changing the target architecture to x64, but i cant seem to find an option to do that. A: If you use Windows Vista, then you need to install the component Microsoft Visual C++ 2010 Service Pack 1 Redistributable as a prerequisite. To get that, install "Microsoft Visual C++ 2010 Service Pack 1 Redistributable (x64 Edition) (" Q: Angular filter array by event number I have an array of objects with all of the events that the users have completed. Each event has a specific number that I give out at the end of it. I want to filter the array and get back all of the events that the user has not completed yet, but it must be filtered by the event number. For example: let completedEvents = [{event_id: 1, user_id: 1},{event_id: 2, user_id: 1},{event_id: 3, user_id: 2}]; // I want to filter completedEvents to only get back events with event_id: 1 and event_id: 2 let notCompletedEvents = completedEvents.filter(function(item) { return item.event_id !== 1 && item.event_id !== 2; }); console.log(notCompletedEvents); I want to be able to use the number to filter the array so I don't have to add in 1 and 2 for the id. Is this possible? A: You can use Array.map to get array of all object where event_id are 1 and 2. Then filter using Array.filter. let completedEvents = [{event_id: 1, user_id: 1},{event_id: 2, user_id: 1},{event_id: 3, user_id: 2}]; let notCompletedEvents = completedEvents.map(item => { return item.event_id === 1 && item.event_id === 2; }); console.log(notCompletedEvents);
